

Join the fun this fall!

What is the Seven Day Challenge?

The Seven Day Challenge is going to be a mock disaster that lasts 7 Days in which the bloggers at <http://foodstoragemadeeasy.net> will be initiating an emergency “fire drill”. Participants will have a chance to test their level of preparedness in a simulated emergency environment. Each day during the Seven Day Challenge participants will receive an email informing them which of their utilities they will have access to. At the conclusion of the Seven Day Challenge participants will have means to share, discuss, and give feedback on how they could have been “better” prepared.

How to sign up?

You can sign-up online at the Seven Day Challenge FoodStorageMadeEasy.NET.

What’s in it for me?

- Opportunity to win a WonderMill Hand Mill for joining and by telling friends
- Participant prizes for completing the challenge
- Tons of learning
- Peace of mind from being prepared

How will I be prepared in time?

Follow the blog <http://foodstoragemadeeasy.net> and through-out the summer as they will be doing a summer crash course helping you get ready. You can also sign up for FREE CHECKLISTS that get emailed to you ever 2 weeks with to do items, and to purchase lists!

P.S When signing up, make sure you give the friend that passed this along credit in the referrer field 😊. Doing so will give you AND them an entry for the WonderMill Giveaway
