This shelf stable recipe book was compiled by Jodi and Julie at FoodStorageMadeEasy.NET. It is a collaboration of family favorite pantry recipes submitted by readers of Food Storage Made Easy.

What Does “Shelf Stable” Mean?

There are many reasons that people choose to build a food storage. There are certain scenarios where it is highly likely that there will be no electricity for cooking. While it is great to use food storage in combination with fresh ingredients for everyday cooking, there is also a need to plan for meals, snacks, etc. that use only ingredients that can be stored on a “shelf”. Thus the term shelf stable recipes.

What’s Included in This Book

This book includes recipes in the following categories: Breads & Muffins, Breakfast foods, Soups, Chilies, & Stews, Main Courses, Sides, Salads, & Snacks, Cookies, Cakes, Desserts, and Miscellaneous.

Some recipes include more advanced storage foods like canned meats or freeze-dried cheeses. Others are limited to more simple traditional food storage ingredients. There should be something for everyone in here! At the end of the book there is also information on powerless cooking, cooking fuels, and water storage, which will be helpful in preparing for cooking without electricity.

Thank you to all who submitted a recipe for this amazing collection!

BISCUIT MIX

SUBMITTED BY PILAR ROY

Ingredients:
8 c. flour
1 1/2 c. nonfat dry milk
1/4 c. baking powder
1 T. salt (I like a little more)
1 1/2 c. lard or shortening

Directions:
"Cut" ingredients together with a pastry blender (or 2 knives) until it is mixed well. Store in airtight container. I usually make a double batch of this mix so that I have plenty on hand because I use it for so many things... it's kind of like "bisquick". For biscuits: 3 cups of mix 3/4 cup water Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Mix together and turn onto floured counter. Lightly knead, just enough to bring it together or you will have tough biscuits. Roll to about 1 inch thick and cut out your biscuits. Bake them on an ungreased cookie sheet or pizza stone about 10 minutes. For rolled out dumplings: Same as biscuits, but knead longer for a tough smooth dough. Roll out to about 1/8th inch thick and cut in strips. Cook them in your chicken and broth like you would do normally. I have also made pancakes and flour tortillas with this mix!

BUTTERMILK BISCUIT MIX

SUBMITTED BY HELEN FAGERBURG

Ingredients:
3 c. flour
1 Tbsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
3-1/2 T. buttermilk powder
1/3 c. shortening powder

Directions:
Stir dry ingredients together until evenly mixed. These proportions are for 1 batch. (Make multiple batches to store in the pantry) Preheat oven to 425* Place 3-3/4 C. mix (or 1 batch) in mixing bowl. Add 1 tsp. vegetable oil and about 1 C. cold water. (Add a little at a time after the first 1/2 C. Your dough should hold together and be a little bit sticky but not wet.) Mix together with a fork or your fingers to make a soft, slightly sticky dough (not too wet or too dry -- add a little more flour if you’ve made it too wet). Knead about 10 times in the bowl. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured counter. Roll out or pat down to about 3/4" thick. Cut out using a floured biscuit cutter. Arrange biscuits on a greased pan (or preferably use a stoneware pan) with sides touching. Bake for 10-15 minutes, until golden brown.

TORTILLAS
SUBMITTED BY DANITA B.

Ingredients:
2 tsp. baking powder
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 c. shortening
4 c. flour
1 1/3-1 1/2 c. hot water

Directions:
Combine baking powder, salt, and flour in a mixer on low speed with wire whips if you have them. Add shortening mix on low speed until shortening is just incorporated or looks a bit smaller than pea sized. Once done change to a dough hook and add hot water to mix. You want enough water so it forms a non sticky dough so don't add it all at once. Knead the dough for about 5 -10 min. It should be smooth, soft, and warm. Let stand covered for 15-30 min. and knead again or about 30 sec. Start heating up the griddle on a med-low. Now on a lightly floured surface dump the dough and inch off 2 T. sections. Put balls in bowl and cover it. On your lightly floured surface take one dough ball and flatten it out into a circle, roll with a rolling pin from the middle out, roll up once then down one, turn the tortilla over and clockwise 1/4 of a turn and repeat. Dust LIGHTLY with flour if getting too sticky. Keep doing this until you get the desired thickness. Lay the tortillas on a griddle. When one side has a crust then flip over and cook until the same on the other side. Adjust the heat and length of time cooking as necessary to avoid burning or having the tortilla be more cracker-like. When the tortilla is done cooking place in a kitchen towel that's been folded in half. Now have fun cooking the rest. While one is cooking I always have one that I'm working on it goes pretty quickly if you do it this way.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD - 2

SUBMITTED BY KRISTY WHITTACRE

Ingredients:
- Up to 6 c. whole wheat flour (or combination white and wheat)
- 2 T. yeast
- 1 T. salt
- 1/4 c. honey
- 1/4 c. vegetable or canola oil
- 2 c. hot water

Directions:
Dissolve the yeast and honey in the water in a large bowl. Add 3 cups of the flour and mix until mostly incorporated then add the salt and the oil and continue to mix. Continue to add flour as you mix until dough becomes stiff enough to handle. Turn out on floured surface and knead dough, adding more flour as needed, until dough is smooth and elastic. Place dough back in bowl and cover lightly. Let rise until it doubles in size (I put it in the microwave when I do this because it creates a nice closed environment.). Punch down the dough and let rest 10 minutes then separate into 3 pieces, roll each piece out into a rectangle and then roll into a loaf to put in a greased pan. Let rise again about double before baking. Bake 350° for 30-40 minutes.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD – 3

SUBMITTED BY DOROTHY SANDAKER

Ingredients:
- 6 c. Whole Wheat Flour (fresh ground)
- 6 c. White Flour
- 4 T. Instant Yeast
- 1/2 c. Sugar
- 1/2 c. Powdered eggs
- 1/2 c. Powdered Milk
- 8 tsp. Salt
- 1/2 c. melted butter or shortening
- 5 c. warm water

Directions:
Combine flours in large pan and push to the sides leaving a well in the center. Add water to well then add other ingredients as listed. Mix the water and about 1/2 or less of the other stuff to make a soft batter. Let rest for 10 minutes or until it becomes bubbly. Using your hands stir in the rest of the flour to form soft dough. Turn out on floured surface and knead about 100 times or about 10 minutes. Grease the pan you mixed the bread in and put the dough back in turning to be sure the top is greased. Cover and let rise about 1 hour, punch it down and let it rest for a few minutes while you grease 5 loaf pans. Divide dough into 5 pieces and form into loaves, again greasing the tops of the loaves. Cover and let rise about 45 minutes to an hour. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Remove from pans and turn loaves upright, cover and let cool before putting in plastic bags.

JUST ADD WATER PANCAKES

SUBMITTED BY STACEY T.

Ingredients:
- 8 c. All-purpose flour
- 3/4 c. Sugar
- 1 1/2 c. Dry Milk
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 T. Baking Powder

Directions:
Mix all ingredients together and store in a 1 gallon air tight container. When ready to make pancakes take 1 2/3 C to 2C of mix and mix with water to desired consistency. Pour 1/4 C of mix on hot griddle sprayed with Pam, and cook to desired golden brownness.

Special Notes:
I make this using oatmeal flour. I take oatmeal and grind it in a blender until it is flour consistency. I usually use 2 C oatmeal flour and 6 C all purpose flour. I make this and store it. That way I have my own version of pancake mix, just cheaper. If fresh ground whole wheat flour is used it would need to be stored in the freezer to increase the shelf life.
PEANUT BUTTER BREAKFAST ENERGY BALLS
SUBMITTED BY KAREN DOYLE

2 T. Chia Seeds (can use flax, sesame, pumpkin, or poppy seeds)

1/2 c. brown rice syrup or honey

In a bowl, mix together oats, seeds, and peanuts.

Directions:
In a bowl, mix together oats, seeds, and peanuts. Add brown rice syrup or honey and mix to combine. Add melted peanut butter and mix until moistened. At this point you can fold in 1/2 cup of add ins. (Banana chips and chocolate chips are particularly good.) If making these when you have power, you can press into a 13 x 9 pan and bake at 350 for 20-25 minutes OR press into 13 x 9 pan and chill for 60 minutes. If you are without power, roll into balls. These do not need refrigeration.

CHILI
SUBMITTED BY SHERI VAN PATTEN

Ingredients:
2 can or 1 quart chopped tomatoes
1 can or 1 pint whole kernel corn, drained
1 can or 1 pint tomato sauce
1 large can chili beans in sauce or your favorite brand of chili
4 c. leftover cooked beans (or 1 can/pint each of cooked black, pinto, and kidney beans - drained)
a dash or MORE of cayenne or your favorite brand of chili sauce/salsa

Directions:
Dump all ingredients but cayenne into a pan and heat. Best if simmered to blend flavors but can be eaten cold, if needed. Season with cayenne or chili sauce/salsa to personal taste.

To be a complete complementary protein meal, I serve this with polenta patties made from some of the liquid that was drained of the corn and beans and mixed with corn masa/meal. Best if cooked in a pan and then fried but can be cooked on a hot rock or griddle, if needed.

Ingredients:
- 1 can vegetable or chicken broth
- 1/2 lb dry black beans (or 2 cans)
- 2 c. salsa (more or less to taste)

Directions:
Cook your beans ahead of time. I just do mine in the slow cooker in the morning. Reserve roughly a cup of both beans and salsa. Puree the remaining beans and salsa with the chicken broth. DRIED VARIETY SOUP
SUBMITTED BY VIRGINIA PYKONEN

Ingredients:
- 1/2 c. dried lentils
- 1/2 c. dried split peas
- 1/2 c. pearl barley
- 6 c. water
- 2 T. Wyler’s Bullion granules (chicken or beef)

Optional Ingredients:
- 1 can chicken or tuna
- 1 pint canned roast chunks or ground beef
- 1/2 c. dried mixed vegetables (onion, celery, carrot, bell pepper)
- 1 can mixed vegetables

Directions:
I buy one bag each of barley, split peas, and lentils and keep them mixed in a large container. I scoop out 1 1/2 cups of that mix whenever I want this soup. Bring water to a boil. Add dried mix, and bouillon granules. Add any add-ins you wish. (Or no add-ins. The soup really is good on it’s own.) The soup simmers uncovered for 30 minutes to be edible, but is even better after simmering for an hour.

Special Notes:
The basic soup is good even without add-ins. But extra ingredients do bring variety. This soup is FANTASTIC to keep on hand, slowly simmering (covered) on the stove all afternoon on a snowy day. Leftovers are delicious, but may want thinning down a bit with extra water or broth.

HOBO SOUP
SUBMITTED BY KAREN E.

Ingredients:
- 1 can carrots
- 1 can corn
- 1 can peas
- 1 can diced tomatoes
- 1 can green beans
- 1 can chili
- 1 can beans - kidney, black, pinto, etc.
- 1 can of whatever else is in your cupboard
- Salt and pepper
- Other seasonings

Directions:
Open and empty each can into a large stock pot. Add the seasonings per your taste. Heat on Medium heat until heated through. Serve and enjoy. This is a great way to use all those left over cans that you really have no idea what to use them for. It goes really well with corn bread, rolls, or tortilla chips. It is also fast and easy, especially when things get busy.

The longer the chili cooks, the better it tastes.

- 1 Can Cream of Chicken Soup
- 1 Can Water Chestnuts, drained
- 1/2 c. Minute Rice
- 1 c. Water

Directions:
Combine all ingredients in a 9x12 baking dish. Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes, sprinkle chowmein noodles over top, bake an additional 30 minutes. This could be baked in a Sun Oven as well!

HAMBURGER STROGANOFF

SUBMITTED BY MARILYN REDA

Ingredients:
- 1 pint of ground beef
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 pint or can of chicken broth
- Either: 8 oz of egg noodles or 1 1/2 c. of white rice
- 3 1/3 c. of water or chicken broth

Directions:
Heat pint of ground beef in sauce pan, then add cream of chicken soup and chicken broth. (After adding the cream of chicken soup, I pour the chicken broth into the can to make sure I get as much of the soup out as possible). Bring to a boil, then reduce the heat and simmer while stirring frequently (so it doesn’t stick to bottom of pan). Cook for approx. 10 minutes or so. If cooking noodles: bring a pot of salted water to a boil, add the egg noodles and cook till tender. If cooking rice: Add rice and water/chicken broth to a saucepan. Stir well. Bring to a boil, reduce heat to medium/medium low and simmer, with cover on, for 20 minutes. Take it off the heat, let it sit with cover on for 5 minutes, then fluff with fork and serve.

MEAT POT PIE
SUBMITTED BY ALLISON CLARIDGE

Pie Crust:
2 c. flour
1 tsp. salt
1 c. shortening
1/2 c. water

Filling:
2-3 cups canned meat (we like chicken best, cubed beef works too)
2 cans cream of... soup (chicken with chicken, mushroom with beef)
1 can mixed veggies
1 can new potatoes, diced

Directions:
Pie Crust: In a large bowl, mix flour and salt. Cut in shortening. (2 knives works, pastry cutters rock) Stir in water until dough forms a ball. Divide dough in half, shape into balls and wrap in plastic, and put in the fridge overnight. Next day, roll out dough on floured board, slightly bigger than the pie pan you are using. Place in greased and floured pie pan. Stir meat, soup and veggies together in a bowl and pour into pie pan. Top with second rolled out dough circle. Pinch seams together around the rim of pie pan (crimp with a fork is easy) and cut two or three slots to vent. Bake in a 350° oven for 45-50 minutes.

CHICKEN AND RICE

SUBMITTED BY KRYSTA FECKE

Ingredients:
- 1 box Chicken Flavored Rice-A-Roni
- 1 can chicken (drained, but reserve juice)
- 1 can peas (or 1/2 c. dehydrated peas, reconstituted)
- 1/2 can Cream of Chicken soup (optional)
- Abt. 1/2 c. reconstituted powdered milk (optional)

Directions:
Make the rice mix according to package, using the juice from the canned chicken as part of the water needed. Once the rice mix is cooked, add chicken and peas (stir in the soup and milk at this point, if using) and allow to heat through before serving.

Special Notes:
Note: I put the Cream of Chicken soup and milk as optional, because I like it best without them. When you first make the rice, it is nice and moist, and I don't think you need the soup and milk (and I personally think it tastes better without them.) But my kids like it with the soup and milk stirred in at the end of the cooking time. I would suggest adding the soup and milk the next day if you have leftovers, because it DOES get dry after sitting in the fridge overnight. Just add the soup and milk (as much as you need until you get the consistency you like) as you are reheating it.

- Two tins flat anchovies in Olive Oil
- Two cans (14 average) artichoke hearts in water
- Powdered garlic
- Splash of white wine (optional)
- 1 lb angel hair pasta

Directions:
Open tins of anchovies into heated sauce pan. Stir until heated through enough to break apart into a paste. Garlic to taste; we love it, so lots of shakes! Continue to stir over a low heat for about two minutes Open artichoke hearts and pour liquid into anchovy/garlic mixture. Add a splash or two of wine at this point. Heat over a low heat for about 15 minutes. “Up to this point can be made ahead in the morning. Don’t add artichokes until you are ready to serve. Just before serving; heat sauce, add hearts and heat through. Serve over cooked pasta. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese if desired.

If you add the hearts too soon, they get mushy and absorb the sauce. Just cook long enough to heat through. “I know it sounds like an odd combo of food, but I’ve served it often to family and guests, and even my pickiest eaters love it. Just don’t tell them what’s in it until they tell you how wonderful it is!

Make noodles (boil 4 qts water, put noodles in, set timer 10 minutes, drain in colander, put in pot to keep warm). Dump everything else in blender - let it whirl. Pour sauce over noodles - should still be warm, and serve.

This is a great side to leftover Chinese take-out, or homemade "Chinese" (i.e. stir fried veggies). I've used regular spaghetti, Soba, and whole wheat spaghetti with equally well results. Soba are "nuttier." Although it doesn't last around here, it can be served cold, for lunch.

Ingredients:
- 3 cups lightly salted water
- 1 cup farro perlato (emmer wheat)
- 1/3 cup sun-dried tomatoes in oil, chopped
- 1/2 cup light balsamic dressing

Directions:
Bring water to a boil. Add 1 cup farro. Partially cover with lid and cook over medium-low heat, stirring frequently, for 25-30 minutes or until liquid is absorbed. Add remaining ingredients, stirring until all combined and heated through.

Special Notes:
You can use the dry, raisin-type sun-dried tomatoes, but you will need to add a little more dressing to compensate for the lack of moisture. I played around with the amounts until I found my favorite, but you can adjust the tomatoes and dressing to your taste. (The dressing and sun-dried tomatoes are shelf stable until opened.)

DIRTY RICE
SUBMITTED BY SHERI VAN PATTEN

Ingredients:
2 c. of leftover cooked rice, (plain, any kind)
2 c. of leftover cooked black beans (or 1 can drained)
1 can whole kernel corn, undrained
1 can or 1 pint chopped tomatoes
2 cans or 1 quart of tomato sauce
a dash or MORE of cayenne or your favorite brand of chili sauce/salsa

Directions:
Combine all ingredients and heat. Add cayenne or chili sauce/salsa to personal preference. This dish is usually made on the spicier/hot side. Best if allowed to simmer or sit to blend flavors, but can be eaten cold if needed.

Special Notes:
While this dish fulfills being a complete protein and has additional nutrients from the corn and tomatoes and sauce, I usually serve this dish with buttered saltine crackers (can use canned butter). Plus it's fun to scoop up the rice with the crackers, too. No eating utensils needed. :)

Ingredients - Whole Wheat Roll Mix:

- 8 c. white flour

Combine the first 5 ingredients and keep in the fridge. For the Wheat Thins combine w.w. roll mix, oil, water and salt. Preheat oven to 350. Then mix and knead for about 3 minutes or until the dough is smooth—but don’t knead too long. Divide dough into 4 balls and roll out each ball until it is pretty thing. (might be easier to place the dough in the cookie sheet and roll it out that way) Cut diagonal strips 2 inches apart. Poke all over with a fork and make sure each cracker has holes in it. Sprinkle lightly with salt and bake 10-15 minutes or until brown. Cool on a wire rack and then break apart.

WHOLE GRAIN CRACKERS

SUBMITTED BY NANCY BREWER

Ingredients:
- 3 cups oatmeal
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup wheat germ
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup oil
- 1 cup water
optional: sesame or poppy seeds

Directions:
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Using a food processor, mix the dry ingredients together. Add the oil and water. (The dough will be very stiff.) Divide the dough in half. Using a rolling pin, roll the dough very thin and evenly on two cookie sheets. If you are using cookie sheets with rims, use the bottom side to roll out the dough. Sprinkle with salt and seeds (if using) and roll again to press into the crackers. Using a pizza cutter or a sharp knife, cut into small squares (think Wheat Thins). Bake about 20 minutes. Watch for the crackers on the outside of the cookie sheets to brown quicker than the ones in the center. Remove crackers as they are nicely brown and crisp, returning the sheet to the oven with the rest to finish browning.

Special Notes:
These crackers taste somewhat like Wheat Thins, but if you use sesame seeds they taste like sesame sticks. You can also vary the flavors by adding onion or garlic powder. Because I have an Atlas pasta machine, I use it to roll the crackers very thin instead of a rolling pin.

Stir with a fork BUT DO NOT BEAT. When all the mixture is wet and there are no 'pockets' of dry mixture or oil, even in the bottom corners, it is ready to bake, even though the cake mix will be lumpy. Bake at 375° for 45 minutes-1 hour or until toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool, frost and serve. 5 second spray of non-stick cooking spray (for emulsification purposes)

Directions:
Place all of the ingredients in the blender, (using your judgement as to placement...my blender does best with the ice on the bottom). Use more or less water for thicker or thinner shakes, remember...you can always add more, but you can’t take it back out. Put on the lid and process on highest speed for a full 2 minutes. Pour into cups and serve.

I like to 'taste test' this as I go along. :) Sometimes I add more sugar &/or cocoa, but usually it's great as is...

SNOW ICE CREAM

SUBMITTED BY JEANNA CATENA

Ingredients
1 - 12 oz. can Evaporated Milk (you can use regular milk or half & half)
1/2 c. Sugar
1/2 tsp. Vanilla
12 c. Clean White Snow (I don’t measure it so I can’t say exactly)

Directions:
Stir the milk, sugar and vanilla in a large bowl, until the sugar dissolves. Taste it and add more sugar or vanilla, if needed, to your taste. Collect some clean, white snow. We use a Large Roasting Pan to be sure to have enough. Stir the snow, a little at a time, into the milk mixture until frozen and a consistency you will enjoy. This recipe will make four large servings.

Leftovers do not freeze well. I store leftovers by letting them melt, then storing the ‘liquid’ in the fridge for 1-2 days. Leftovers can be used again by repeating the process starting at tasting it and adding anything needed to bring it to your taste then add snow to freeze it.

VINEGAR PIE

SUBMITTED BY JUDI B.

Ingredients:
1/2 c. Apple Cider Vinegar
2 c. sugar
2 c. water
8 T. powdered butter dash of cinnamon
Basic recipe from “add water only” biscuit mix.

Directions:
Make the biscuit dough according to package directions and roll out thin to make dumplings. Bring the vinegar, sugar, water, butter, and cinnamon to a boil and add dumplings saving a few for the top. Pour into a cake pan, and cover with remaining dumplings to make a design. Sprinkle with more cinnamon and sugar. Bake at 350° 20 to 30 minutes until brown.

Special Notes:
You absolutely HAVE to try this. This is a recipe that has been in our family since the horse and buggy days. It was actually invented during the great depression when people had very little, and taste divine! You would never know it was a dessert made out of so little. Especially good with ice cream. It really does taste just like cobbler!

There are a variety of appliances, or tools you can use to cook food without power. Here are a few examples of ways you can cook food without power. Make sure to check out the cooking fuels section.

SUN OVENS: Sun Ovens use the sun as an energy source and can be used to cook anything you cook in your regular oven. They can be used in parks that ban open flame cooking. There is never any danger of fire or of burning food or forests.

VOLCANO: The Volcano Collapsible Propane Grill is a very versatile and efficient Stove/Grill. The stove works with propane, wood and charcoal. Collapses down to 5” for easy storage, and you can use multiple cooking methods such as grills, pans, dutch ovens with the Volcano.

CAMP STOVES: The number of camp stoves on the market are endless. You can get small single burner stoves, to fancy camp stoves that compete with stoves found in homes. When purchasing a camp stove, make sure you take storage space into consideration.

BBQ GRILLS: You may not have thought of using your BBQ in case of emergencies, however it is a legitimate way to cook without power. You may consider thinking of recipes, and dishes you can use in your BBQ you already own.

DUTCH OVEN: A Dutch Oven is a thick-walled (usually cast iron) cooking pot with a tight-fitting lid. Dutch ovens have been used as cooking vessels for hundreds of years. Dutch Ovens are great for cooking a variety of meals.

GENERATORS: Generators are available in a wide range of power ratings. Depending on the type, generators may run off a variety of fuel. While generators are not a cooking apparatus, they can provide power for stoves, electric pressure cookers, or crock pots. Generators must be run outside, so make sure you have plenty of extension cords.

CAMPFIRE: When all else fails, if you have wood and matches, in THEORY, you should be able to build and cook over a fire pit or in a fireplace. If this is your plan, make sure you at least have pots, pans, and utensils to cook over a fire.

There are a variety of fuels you can use to cook food without power. Here are a few examples of different fuels you can store. Make sure to check out the powerless cooking section.

Wood
Raw, dry wood is a very good source of fuel although it often becomes wet and unusable in a disaster. Also good for heating so it’s a valuable fuel to store, even though it takes up a lot of space.

- Indoor cooking: Wood-burning stove or open fireplace (make sure they are properly vented to outside)
- Outdoor cooking: Open fire or Volcano Grill

Storage limitations: In rural areas wood may be readily available at a relatively low cost but local permits may be necessary. In some areas wood may not be as available and storage areas are limited.

Shelf life: Virtually unlimited as long as kept dry and covered.

Propane/Butane
Available in several sizes ranging from 1 pound to very large containers and is a good source for both heat and cooking.

- Indoor cooking: When using propane to cook indoors you can ONLY use a natural gas stove that has been adapted for propane use. Without proper alterations it is extremely dangerous to use inside.
- Outdoor cooking: Barbecue grill or Volcano Grill

Storage limitations: NEVER store propane indoors, or even in a garage or storage shed. It should be stored in a location that gets little to no direct sunlight. Limitations on amounts you are allowed to store generally apply due to its explosive nature. Check with your local fire department for specific storage restrictions in your area.

Shelf life: Most containers have a “use by date”, they need to be recertified 12 years from that date and every 10 years after that.

Kerosene/Heating oil
As with propane, a variety of storage tanks are used. Kerosene and Heating oil are good sources of heat for heating your shelter but generally not ideal for cooking.

- Indoor cooking: A kerosene cooker-heater can be used for “one-pot cooking”
- Outdoor cooking: Not applicable

Storage limitations: Store kerosene out of sunlight. If legal in your area, it can safely be stored in a garage or shed, but NEVER in your basement. Limitations on amounts you are allowed to store may apply in your area. Check with your local fire department for specifics.

Shelf life: Ideal shelf life is 1 year. High quality kerosene stored properly in a well sealed container MAY last up to 3 years.
Coal/Charcoal
Coal can be a good source of heat and charcoal is great for outdoor cooking. Both are fairly easy to store without safety concerns.

Indoor cooking: A coal-burning stove can be used for “one-pot cooking” with proper ventilation. Charcoal should NOT be used indoors.

Outdoor cooking: Charcoal can be used for dutch oven cooking, in a barbecue grill, or in a Volcano Grill.

Storage limitations: Large amounts are needed but it is easy to calculate how much you need to store. Must be kept dry.

Shelf life: Charcoal and coal can be stored indefinitely in dry locations indoors or outdoors.

Insta-Fire
Insta-Fire is a safe, simple, and versatile new fire starting product. You can use it to light campfires, prepare charcoal briquettes, or as a safe and reliable fuel source for cooking or heating in emergency situations.

Indoor cooking: Insta-fire can be used in a wood-burning stove or open fireplace. The key is just to have proper ventilation.

Outdoor cooking: Works fantastic by itself in a Volcano Grill, can also be used in a #10 can stove, open fire pit, or directly on the ground (even in snow!)

Storage limitations: None. May be stored indoors, next to food, in basements or attics, or outdoors.

Shelf life: 30 year shelf life.

PLEASE NOTE: There are many many safety concerns with the proper storage and usage of cooking fuels. We provided this information as a general overview but recommend you look into other sources for more detailed information.

When planning and preparing for a powerless situation, you need to make sure you store water for cooking. Remember, you need to take into consideration the amount of water you store if you are storing foods that require rehydration, or reconstitution. Here is just a little more information on storing water:

Key Points

- Most sources recommend 1 gallon of water per person, PER day, for 3-14 days. Make sure to consider storing enough for pets as well.
- Store water in “FOOD GRADE” or PETE plastic containers (stay away from milk jugs, but soda bottles are suitable).
- Water storage boxes are another good option. Water is placed into mylar bags and then inserted into stackable cardboard boxes.
- Store water away from too much light or heat.
- Clean, sanitize, and rinse all containers prior to use.
- Do not use containers previously used to store non-food products.
- Store water in multiple sizes of containers to suit different emergency needs.
- Do not store water containers directly on concrete. Place on cardboard, wood pallets, or other materials.
- Non-chlorinated water (most municipal water is chlorinated) should be treated with unscented liquid household chlorine bleach (5 to 6% sodium hypochlorite). See the chart below for appropriate amount to add to water.
- Boiling is the safest way to clean water, however you can also use household liquid bleach to kill microorganisms.
- Rotate your water storage at least once every year.
